To the Watts, Patterson Family and Beloved UBC Disciples... God has once again embraced one of His Beloved Daughters in the person of Jasmine Peterson... There are no words to express the void that we all will experience about the transition of such a beautiful soul inside and out... Jasmine's legacy will be one of perseverance, pride and yes, pressing! She was a fierce believer that through Christ she could do ALL things and that she did! So we must relish and remember how despite all of her obstacles she accomplished more in her short earthly life than some who have had the opportunities to do more..love you precious jewel and from the balconies of heaven, push us in to greater things! To God be ALL the glory for she touched and her living will not and is not in vain!

*Dearest Patterson and Watts family,
My deepest condolences to your families at this most difficult time. I remember Jasmine as such a sweet and loving spirit so full of life and love... always had a sweet smile in tow. It was about a year ago that I had the delight of working so closely with her during the MLK Day of service. Her creativity was beyond belief. I remember when she spoke of her placemat activity with tape, one I had never heard of... boy did she show us all the talents she held!! She will be missed for now, and as we continue our work here, Jasmine has begun her work on the other side. We will see her again one day. Until then, May the Lord cover you all and make you stronger with each passing day.
God bless you

“ To The Patterson and Watts families, No where in time we can prepare and be ready for times such as this. Your beloved Jasmine who touched not only your hearts; Jasmine had through the years, touched the hearts of others. Their hearts will be full of disbelief, hard to accept, tears of sadness while cherishing their memories of how special, resourceful, persistent and loving Jasmine was. As your families and friends gather by your side, know that their sincerity of your time to grieve will be held together in prayer as God leads Jasmine to her resting place while she awaits to transition to meet her Heavenly Father. I leave both Patterson and Watts families my sincere condolences for the passing of Jasmine and will respect the needed time to grieve.
