“ Joe was a good friend of my wife's family and became a good friend to me and my wife, Linda. He was a giving and kind soul. A real Gentle man. But he was also a no nonsense guy. Whenever I need a helping hand or if an emergency popped up, he would be there. He even took over the remodeling of my kitchen, and we worked well together on that project to its successful completion. He would often come by my house and share with Linda and me pictures of his family, and let us know how you were all doing. That included his grandchildren. He was very proud of each and everyone of you. And you should be very proud that he was you DAD. God Bless This Very Fine Man Rich & Linda Valente
